Contraction in Loans, Falling Off in Deposits, and Decrease in Cash Nuch Larger Than Expected-Mer-

NEW YORK, March 5.-Liquidation was renewed with energy on the Stock Exto-day, and the Saturday short ders were executed for Washington ac-cond a general feeling of apprehension set affort, but to a large extent they sented the guesses of room-traders as to the motive for the Washington Bug. A rally in the late dealings was in part the result of covering by shorts, who had sold early in the day. no concidence of the rally with the pearance of the bank statement seemed cash were much larger than had been specied. The fact that the financial at had been going through such a accepted as a bull card, in view derlying strength of conditions, is thus demonstrated. That this is the withdrawal of deposits from York banks by interior institutions, precautionary measure to strengthheir reserves, is beyond doubt. The mous contraction in loans of $13,622,600 sents the precautionary measure of bey for purely speculative purposes become scarce, why liquidation on Stock Exchange has been forced, and prices were acutely-depressed. It is ble that some part of the loan conion is due to liquidation on sterling hange collateral, which has been with for use in importing gold. But it general belief that gold imports been made on the sale of new bills London purchases of American et cal London purchases of American securi-ties, which were heavy, and against grain expanents from here. The net result to the clearing-house banks is a decrease in deposits of $23,103,900. The gold in transit for New York or received to-cay amounts in the aggregate to $5,500,000, which will serve as an offset in part to Lanks' losses in cash. The situation in the stock market is cosely analogous to that on the culmina-ion of the rise in prices last September. The movement of money then to the intetior, to move the crops, caused a stif-coung of money rates, and liquidation of promative stock holdings. Bonds have not been as active as

BANK STATEMENT. The Weekly bank statement shows the ollowing changes:

Surplus reserve, decrease, $2,135,825. Loans, decrease, $13,622,000. Specie, increase, $839,400. Legal tenders, decrease, $8,873,700.

Deposits, decrease, $23,193,909. Circulation, increase, $47,290. The banks now hold $29,823,509 in ex-ss of the requirements of the 25 per the Associated Banks of New York reflects in full the disturbing causes which have been making for nearly three weeks past. The heavy decreases, however, cover, a period longer than the seven days which the totals are supposed to represent. As was outlined in this analy-sis last week, the averages did not include the losses which the banks were then sustaining through shipments to the The latest statement reveals interior. very clearly the extent of this drain. The decrease in deposits can be traced through a list of twelve of the larger banks, ranging from one to four million dollars in each instance. The only indocks, but have moved in sympathy with dollars in each instance. The only inference is that this money has gone to interior institutions, and this is further tates old 4's and the 2's are ½ lower, orne out by the fact that New York exchange at all important centres has advanced from a heavy discount to par. and, in some cases, to a substantial premium. The amount shipped has been more than sufficient to meet legitimate trade demands. At times the movement seemed to have ceased. The future de-velopments of a political character must decide whether it is to be resumed, or whether the tide will turn and the money again flow to New York.

In view of the current statement, the heavy gold importations do not appear pat all strange. In fact, the wonder is that the engagements were not larger. As might have been expected, there has been a corresponding reduction in loans, and the decrease of $13,622,000 is accounted for by the liquidation in speculative circles, and the calls made in order to strengthen reserves. The heavy sales of strengthen reserves. The heavy sales of accumulated sterling exchange at this centre are also to be considered in this connection, but, for all that, the banks lost last week nearly $8,000,000 in cash reserve the reduction is only $2,135,825, and the excess is still over $20,000,000. The gold coming from Europe will more than make up teh loss in reserves for two weeks. The Treasury did not call the usual Union Pacific transfers from de-pository banks last week, and while Kansas Pacific payments will require within the next thirty or forty days nearly 36,000,000 now in the banks, it cannot be said that the outlook favors anything more than moderate firmness in rates. The exchange situation is so sensitive that sudden advances are bound to bring additional imports, and thus restore the equilibrium. If the developments of the next ten days are such that a peaceful conclusion of our foreign complications is assured, the money market will probaby weaken. As it is, rates have actually declined from the high point reached

CHICAGO, March 5.—Covering in May wheat by northwestern shorts was the feature to-day. It was the principal factor in an advance of a cent in that option, and the strength displayed was communicated to July, which closed at a 1-462-8c, advance. A good deal of nervousness was shown at times. Armour's orders for shipment from Minneapolis to Chicago had a decidedly depressing effect early in the session. Corn and oats were dull and closed with hardly any change in their previous values. Provisions were weak and 21-265c, lower. Leading futures ranged as follows:

An Appeal for the Association. Mrs. Joseph Bryan, president of the Woman's Christian Association, has is-sued the following circular to all inte-rested in the work of the association. It rested in the work of the association. It reads as follows:

To the Friends of the Woman's Christian Association, Richmond, Va.:
The contributions for the work of this association have fallen off of late; not, it is believed, from a lack of interest in the work, but doubtless from an idea that certain bequests made to the association had been received, and were guite sufficient. had been received, and were quite sum-cient for its needs. Both suppositions are cient for its needs. Both suppositions are erroneous.

The legacies of Mrs. Waller and Major Ginter have not yet been received, and may not be for some time. Even when paid, it will be a year or more, in addition, before we can expect to draw any interest therefrom.

In the mean time the work must go on, although sadly hampered by our depleted trensury, which has never been as low as it is to-day.

We feel that it is due to our patrens and ourselves to state these facts.

Gave Him Fine Cigars.

Hon. J. S. Craig, the Delegate from Rockbridge, and wife, are at Warrenton, with the latter's father, who is ill. A letter from Mr. Craig to a friend in Richmond states that they expect to be able to return in a few days to their home, at the Cold Sulphur Springs, in Rockbridge.

able to return in a few days to the home, at the Cold Sulphur Springs, in Rockbridge.

A few days before leaving Richmond Mr. Craig was presented with a box of fine cigars by the Capitol policemen, as a mark of their appreciation of his services in endeavoring to prevent their salaries being reduced. Mr. Craig has just completed his second session, and it is said he will be back again next year. The Eastern Shore people are all afraid of the mountain ovsterman.

Florida Is Overflowing.

A gentleman at the Jefferson last night, on his way to New York, after several weeks spent in Florida, said the crowds from the North in the Land of Flowers have been much larger this winter than ever before. Every good hotel in the State is crowded, and second-class hostelries have all the travel they can actelries have all the travel they can accommodate.

The north-bound travel from Florida has not yet set in, and every day there arrive at the Jefferson parties anticipating a week of pleasure in the South. The next of the Pennsylvania railroad excursteons, composed chiefly of New York and Philadelphia people, will reach the Jefferson the 18th Instant.

THIS DISTINGUISHED MAN PASSES

Judge John Newton Hendren died at his suburban residence, near this city, to day, of kidney disease, from which he has been suffering for some time. Judge Hendren was the son of John Hendren, D. D., a noted educator, of his time and was Master of Arts of the University of Virginia. He was master commissioner of chancery, and subsequently Judge of the County Court of Augusta for many years, and until ousted by the Readjusters, when they obtained control of the State Government. During the latter part of the war he was appointed Treasurer of the Confederate States, and filled that office until the hostilities ceased. After the evacuation of Richmond he attempted to make his way South with many valuable papers of his South with many valuable papers of his department, but at Greensboro', N. C., was turned back by Federal troops, and after many adventures and hardships succeeded in reaching home. He was brother-in-law of John B. Baldwin and John Lewis Peyton, the purchasing agent of the Confederacy, in Great Britain, and was related and connected by marriage with the best families in by marriage with the best families in the State. Of ter children born to him, but one, Mr. Samuel Hendren, survive him. A devoted husband and father, one of the highest minds of his State and country, and a man of most sterling worth has gone

In the Police Court this morning Gregory was fined $25 and placed under bonds for future good behavior. Mr. Considine is not seriously injured, and proceeded with his company to Philadelphia today.

THE NEW TOLL-BRIDGE. Howardsville People Much

Pleased With the Scheme.

HOWARDSVILLE, VA., March 5 .-Special.)-The bill to incorporate the Howardsville Toll - Bridge Company passed both Senate and House, and was yesterday signed by the Governor, and is now a law in operation. The corporators are Messrs. Alexander, F. H. McCulloch, J. K. Irving, A. F. Brady, and T. M. Lo-The bridge is to be operated by a joint stock company, with a minimum capital of $5,000 and a maximum of $55,-After $5,000 have been subscribed, a majority of the corporators have the power to form the company, and dispose of the stock at $100 a share. All obstacles to the erection of the bridge have been removed now. There will be no trouble in getting a riparian foothold, as one of the corporators holds the ferry franchise, and another owns the south shore at the point where the bridge will probably be erected. An official of a Roanoke bridge erected. An official of a Roanoke bridge company says that the bridge can be built and be ready for use in three months' time. The cost will probably be about $12,000. There is no doubt that the bridge will pay for itself in a short while, as there is a great deal of crossing done at this ferry, and many who now cross at ferries above and below here would prefer to cross the bridge. When the bridge will be commenced is not known, but since the way is clear, it is safe to say that before many more moons we Buckingham people can order, a barrel of Buckingham people can order a barrel of Albemarle pippins and feel no apprenen-sion of their getting "drowned" on the way. A "MAN OVERBOARD."

What came near resulting in a serious cident happened very recently. A party of Buckingham farmers decided to go to Farmville to sell their tobacco, and as the way is long and lonely, they all started at the same time in order to have com-pany. After selling their tobacco, which brought a good price, and libating each other times without number, and with a good supply of the fluid on tap, then started home. In order to make things more lively, the majority of the worthles (we draw the mantle of charity around their names) get into one wagon. Night evertook the bacchanalian band, and about 9 o'clock one of the party, in some unaccountable way, got knocked "overboard and lost. When his conferres had gone about five miles they suddenly dis-covered that one of their number was missing. Search was began immediately, but no traces of the missing individual could be found. Knowing that stock when lost during the day will come up to camp at night, they thus philosophized about man, and, accordingly, made a fre and gathered around it, and while waiting for the lost sheep to return to the fold passed the time away by sing-ing. "The Partner I Left Behind." The "lost one," unable to move hand or foot, and nearly frozen to death, was found late in the night by a negro and cared for until next day, when his companions came and took him up, and then renewed their journey. At this writing he has very nearly recuperated, and is not much worse off for his disagreeable experience. Mormon elders have recently visited us, and scattered their tracts and "expositions" all over the country.

Mr. ohn Turner, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. K. Irving, for several days, has returned.

Mr. J. K. Irving left this afternoon for

Rev. Mr. Flournoy will preach his usual monthly sermon here to-morrow at the Presbyterian church. Since he was here last he has become a benedict. Miss Hervey is visiting the family of Mr. Saxelby Cobb.

Miss Neilie Nash left recently for a con-tinued visit to her old home, Charlestown, W. Va.
Raining, snowing, and blowing has been the order of the day recently, and, in consequence, farm operations have been temporarily suspended. But a few warm days like to-day will soon put the soil in working order.

NEW TREASURER'S BONDS. The Attorney-General Will Ask

Judges to Secure Them. Attorney-General Montague has recent ly discovered that the bonds of twentyfive of the 117 county and city treasurers of the State should be replaced by new ones Mr. Montague made the examination in

Mr. Montague made the examination in pursuance of a joint resolution adopted by the General Assembly before the Christmas holidays. He had to do the work hurriedly. Had he have had more time he might probably have made more discoveries of the character reported.

He examined bonds of the aggregate results of $7.3600 together with the penalty of $7,396,000, together with powers of attorney of a very large number of obligors, the resolutions of gua-ranty companies in cases of corporate suretyship, and court orders relative to the execution and approval of bonds. The recommendations as to new bonds refer to those of the latter class, though Mr. Montague will not state they are defective. The Attorney-General has no authority to go further in this matter, and is careful as to his expressions regarding the bonds, as he might thereby be embar-rassed in future action he may have to

He will write to the county judges in the counties where the bonds are re-garded as suspicious, to say the least, calling to their attention the advisability of requiring new ones

A HAIRBREADTH ESCAPE.

Passenger Train and Street-Car Narrowly Avoid Collision.

There was considerable excitement in that pleasant part of the city known as Fulton Friday evening, occasioned by the bare escape of a collision between a street-car and the Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train from Old Point, due here at 6:50. The guard gates at the crossing of the railroad and the street railway are controlled by electric buttons at the Orleans-Street station. On this occasion, from some unaccountable cause, the white knobs failed to do their duty, and the gates remained up. A car passed leisurely under and got fairly upon the leisurely under and got fairly upon the track when the motorman saw the train gliding up towards him at great speed. The engineer of the train saw, too, that unless something was done, and done quickly, a collision would be inevitable. He put on the air brakes and waited. The train, under the pressure of the brakes, slowed down slightly, but even then rushed by the car, just missing the rear fender. The passengers on the car rear fender. The passengers on the car were greatly frightened. No one was hurt, though, and there was no more serious result. However, the narrow es-cape has been the town topic with the Fulton people since it became known.

TWO FIRES YESTERDAY. They Occurred in the Afternoon and Caused $1,075 Damage. Fire broke out in a stable in the rear of No. 324 north Twenty-seventh street yesterday afternoon, shortly after o'clock, and spreading to the residence No. 2611 east Marshall street, was not extinguished until extensive damage had been done. The former property is owned by Mr. L. A. Wilkinson, and the latter by Mr. J. T. Parkinson. The joint loss is estimated at $1,000. The origin of the fire is not known. An hour later, the fall of some live coals from a stove was the cause of a fire which enveloped three shantles in the rear of 2114 and 2116 east Main street rear of 2114 and 2116 east Main street, owned by Mr. L. S. Frischkorn and Mr. J. N. Smith. The buildings were occupied by several colored families. The damage is estimated at $75.

As No. 2 hose wagon was responding to the second call, part of the horse's harness broke, and it was pulled to the scene of the fire by the firemen and citi-

Richmond Youth Dies in Atlanta. News was received here yesterday of the death, in Atlanta, of Keeve S. Jacobs, the 11-year-old son of Mr. Samuel Jacobs, the well-known shoe merchant of lower Main street. The youth had been visiting in Atlanta for some years, and was taken ill last week. A telegram announcing his illness reached his father Thursday, and he hastened to his bedside. The body will be brought to this city.
